You may have noticed that my last screen saver freeware (Daily Aquarium Screensaver - for 30 days) has not been updated for a while. Well, I've decided to take a break and give you some time to discover some of the latest freeware screensavers. Why to create new screensavers? Because I like doing it and doing things better than my competitors. I also want to support developers who are developing nice freeware screen savers. By creating daily screensavers, I want to help them to promote their screensavers to more users. I believe that screensavers are an essential part of our windows experience. It's really useful when we don't have an internet connection. Or when we want to relax and get some fresh air. In this category you will find some of my favorite freeware screensavers. They are not yet daily, but will be updated as soon as possible. Remember that I love to give a try to all the freeware screen savers I review. I don't have any favorite one over the other. If you have a nice freeware screensaver, please contact me to let me know about it. Now, let's start with some very cool screensavers with a lot of water and animals! Daily Aquarium Screensaver - for 30 days: This is the screensaver I've released earlier. The goal of this screensaver was to show the beauty of an aquarium. You can have fun watching your finny pals chase each other, swim among plants, hang out in schools enjoying life. Enjoy watching your fish swim, play and mate. As of right now the screensaver is still available, but may be discontinued. I have updated it to show off some cool new animal to you. Check out the video review here:
